Footscray Station's heritage revealed

We are pleased to announce that works to conserve and restore historic buildings at Footscray Station are now complete.

These works have been undertaken as part of the Regional Rail Link project, which has transformed Footscray Station into a modern transport hub.

You are cordially invited to tour the heritage-listed buildings and inspect new information panels, which tell the vibrant story of the station and celebrates the life of William Cooper, former Footscray resident and a leading campaigner for the rights of Aboriginal and Jewish people during the 1930s, after whom the station footbridge is named.

Please join us for morning tea to commemorate the rich rail history of Melbourne's western suburbs:

Date: Tuesday 11 November 2014
Time: 11.30am to 12.30pm
Location: Footscray Station concourse near entrance to platforms 2 and 3 (Irving Street end). Refreshments will follow in the waiting room between platforms 2 and 3.

RSVP: By Thursday 6 November 2014 for catering purposes

We acknowledge that we will be standing on the traditional lands of the Kulin Nation. We offer our respect to the Elders of these traditional lands, and through them to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples past and present.
