BOOK LAUNCH

White Australia Has A Black History: William Cooper and First Nations Peoples' Political Activism.

Part biography and part history, it draws you in to the amazing journey of this Aboriginal man who lived from 1860 to 1941 and changed the history of our nation as he met with prime ministers and petitioned kings, seeking a voice for his people in Parliament and working for equality and justice. He mentored the next generation which was successful with the 1967 referendum and many of his policies are only being implemented today. This book takes the story to 2019 as Cooper's family have picked up the mantle. Watch out for Vol 2 which focuses on Cooper's support for Jewish people at Kristallnacht, the start of the Holocaust.
